

Risk Disclosures on IPOs

- Investors don't need to issue cheques for IPO applications. Just mention your bank account number and sign the form to authorize your bank to make the payment if you get an allotment. No need to worry about refunds—the money stays in your account until then.